Everything we see around us, before it was created, was arguably a thought. The directions that world history has taken from time to time were all driven by one or more thoughts.

Modern system of treatment has seen introduction of a revolutionary new thought in the form of Zero Therapy. Presented in this book are 'Random Thoughts' of its founder, Vipinchand Bomb.

Uncommon Commonsense at its hard hitting best, a random sample of what lies within –

"Politics : Ticks means bloodsuckers, Poly means many".

"Truth : Ruthlessly TTrue to oneself".

"Money is mon(k)ey, keeps jumping".

"Coat means hiding originality, whether its paint coat, or black coat or white coat".
